Why Binghamton?

The Scene

Binghamton is located in the Southern Tier Region near the Pennsylvania border, three hours from New York City, three hours from Niagara Falls, three hours from Rochester, and three hours from Philadelphia. Binghamton is the principal city and cultural center of the Binghamton metropolitan area, also known as Greater Binghamton or the Triple Cities. The Greater Binghamton area is home to 152,000 people (according to the 2010 census) and spans over 9 counties; Broome, Tioga, Cortland, Delaware, Chenango, Tompkins, Susquehanna, Bradford, and Wayne.

From the art workshops to the restaurant scene, the Greater Binghamton area gives a variety of local culture that provides a wonderful pace of lively entertainment and growth. Between the festivals and community events, there is always something new to discover.

The Culture

For those hesitant about leaving bigger cities due to the possible lack of culture elsewhere, Binghamton has much to offer. The city has many theaters, a performing arts center, a hands-on discovery center, and a thriving nightlife.

Microbreweries

Binghamton has had major business growth over the past several years. One of those business industries includes microbreweries. Craft beers are produced by local, independently owned vendors - each with a unique style and taste.

Why Binghamton?

Real Estate

Binghamton is extremely fortunate to have a strong real estate market; partially due to the strong academic market in our area and our thriving business economy. There are many neighborhoods to choose from and real estate in Binghamton can be quite affordable, though one has to act fast. Homes are selling quickly and inventory is low. When searching, working with a professional agent can make all the difference.

Recreation & Sports

If you are interested in a sport, Binghamton has the facility! Tennis, Hockey, Soccer, Baseball, Softball, Lacrosse, Golf – a variety of venues for the athletic enthusiast.

Food, Events, and Art

You are never far from your favorite type of food in Binghamton. A wide selection of cuisine waiting for you to explore! Because there are so many to choose from, Restaurant Week was developed. A coalition of downtown, and now West and South side, restaurant owners formed with the shared wish to further the food and beverage culture in Binghamton, NY. The organization focuses its attention on creating community value – a core principle in its mission: to promote locally-owned businesses, as well as Binghamton culture and pride while raising money for a local charity.

After you've explored the food scene, fine art is next on your adventure! The First Friday Art Walk held on the first Friday of each month from 6-9 PM, has been "The Place To Be Gorgeous" in Binghamton, New York. Presented by the Gorgeous Washington Street Association, the First Friday Art Walk is our signature event highlighting the area's growing arts community. First Friday patrons enjoy gallery hopping, art openings, music and theater shows, fine dining, cafes, entertainment, and merchant's special events at venues ranging from 30-40 locations downtown and throughout the city's neighborhoods.

Before You Move OUT OF THE AREA

- Sell your current home. We can refer you to a good agent if you don't have one. You may need to assign someone power of attorney to close for you. Discuss this with your attorney.
- Get copies of your medical records for all members of the family. Don't forget the specialists that you've visited and your dentist. Your new doctors will want this information for reference.
- Move all prescriptions to a national drug store chain, or get new written prescriptions from your current doctor, so you can still get them filled at your new location.
- Get copies of school records for the kids. Inform the school of when you will be leaving.
- Get copies of immunization records for kids.
- Take pictures of all valuables. Preferably video-tape your home prior to the movers showing up. This will help with claims later.
- Pack all items that cannot be replaced and bring them with you. Do not leave anything that you cannot live without in the hands of the movers. Bring all highly valuable items with you as well as the video and pictures of your items.
- If you are packing your items yourself, then make certain you label them with the room and the general contents of each box. This will be really helpful when you are unpacking later.
- Your "Basics Box"--Pack one box that contains the basics and label it as such--put big stars on this box so you can find it easily. The box should include:
 - A ROLL OF PAPER TOWELS
 - A CAN OPENER
 - A ROLL OF TOILET PAPER FOR EACH BATH IN YOUR NEW HOME
 - ONE SET OF SILVERWARE FOR EACH PERSON IN THE HOUSE
 - PAPER PLATES
 - PLASTIC CUPS
 - A SHARP KNIFE
 - A SMALL CUTTING BOARD
 - A SCREWDRIVER
 - A HAMMER
 - A PICTURE HANGING KIT
 - A PAIR OF PLIERS
 - AN ELECTRIC DRILL
 - A BOX CUTTER FOR EACH ADULT IN THE HOUSE
 - A DISH TOWEL
 - BATH TOWELS FOR EACH PERSON IN THE HOUSE
 - A FIRST AID KIT
- Backup your computer and take the backup files with you.
- Have a farewell party to say good-bye to your friends. Provide all your friends with your new contact info.
- Forward your mail to your new location.
- Close bank accounts. Update all automatic deposits and payments with new bank account info.
- File a change of address with the IRS, all investment accounts, insurance agents, and your creditors.
- Inform all groups you volunteer for that you are leaving.
- Give notice to your employer.

When You Arrive AT YOUR NEW DESTINATION

- Apply for a new driver's license (new state) or update your address (same state).
- Get kids set up in new school. Provide school with copies of records.
- Find new doctors and a dentist and give copies of your records to them.
- Meet movers at house. Have them deliver boxes to the rooms they belong in. Put all boxes against the walls so you can still move through the house. Find your basics box and open it immediately--you'll need it.
- Unpack as soon as possible (start with the kitchen--you can live without everything else for a while, you will need to be able to make food immediately). Take pictures of anything that is damaged and file claims in a timely fashion.
- Set up computer and confirm that it is still operational. Restore files if necessary.
- Set up bank accounts.
- Update insurance to include new home, update files for new address for cars, and adjustments for new personal property. Remember to order additional riders for computers and high-value jewelry and watches.
- Register car(s) in new state.
- Throw a housewarming party Call us - We are happy to help you set this up and invite new people for you to meet.
